At 10 o'clock Friday morning in the Galveston Island Convention Center, Galveston, Texas, the 168th Annual Council of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas was called to order by the Bishop, the Right Reverend C. Andrew Doyle. The Bishop announced that he had placed a copy of the Bible on the rostrum in view of the Delegates, opened to the Gospel of Luke. He then announced that he had appointed the Reverend Elizabeth Holden and Oliver Chapen-Eiserloh as Chaplains to the 168th Council. Canon Mary MacGregor, Chair of the Committee on New Parishes and Missions made the following report:

Right Reverend Sir, Clergy and Delegates, on behalf of the Committee on Missions and Parishes I have four items of business to report and bring before this Council.

1. Bishop Doyle, I want to report that you have given your consent to the formation of the South Congress Episcopal Community, a parochial mission of St. David's Episcopal Church, Austin. Provisions for the establishment of this type of mission can be found in Title III of the Canons, Section 1.2 of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas. There is no need for any action on this item by Council.

2. My second item to report is that the parish of St. Barnabas' Episcopal Church, Houston, petitioned you as Bishop Diocesan, to be remitted to organized mission status. You have approved their request according to Title III of the Canons, Section 1.4 of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas and there is no need for any action by this Council.

3. Third, I want to report to this Council the progress of our newest church planting effort – heretofore known as the West Houston Hispanic Church Plant. The Rev. Uriel Lopez was called to the Diocese from Chicago in the fall of 2015 to identify a location for a new Hispanic congregation. In consideration of his progress and his plans to begin regular weekly worship in Lent, Bishop Doyle has established an Episcopal Fellowship in accordance with Title III of the Canons, Section 5.11. Furthermore, the Bishop has named this Fellowship San Romero Episcopal Church.

In accordance with Section 5.11, upon recommendation of the Bishop, and with approval of Council, this Fellowship is entitled to one Lay Delegate and may be seated with voice but without vote. On behalf of the Bishop Diocesan, I so move. (Standing recognition and seating with applause)

4. And finally I would like to report to this Council that for the past several years, the Diocese of Texas has been developing a friendship with Holy Immanuel CSI Church in Houston. The CSI, or Church of South India, is part of the Anglican Communion. Holy Immanuel was founded in January 1995 to “promote a unified, orderly and uniform practice for the spiritual growth” of members of the CSI living in the Houston area, and to relate formally to the Church of South India and its locally affiliated churches in full communion with the CSI. The Episcopal Church is in full communion with the CSI. The development of our friendship has included a visitation by Bishop Doyle for Confirmations, as well as participation by the clergy and leaders of Holy Immanuel in clergy conference and other conferences. The Diocese and Holy Immanuel CSI are now formally exploring the possibility of Holy Immanuel CSI Church becoming a member congregation of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas. Their representatives, Father Roy Varghese and Mr. K. T. Zachariah, are with us for this Council.

Right Reverend Sir, I ask that you welcome the representatives of Holy Immanuel CSI Church as observers to this Council, and seat them with no voice or vote. (There being no objection, the representatives were welcomed as observers with seat but without voice or vote)

Thank you, Bishop. We look forward to celebrating the new status of the South Congress Episcopal Community and San Romero Episcopal Church tomorrow morning when representatives from these congregations will ring the bell.

The motion was made to seat San Romero Episcopal Church as a Fellowship. The motion was adopted on a voice vote.

The motion was adopted on a voice vote. The Committee then moved the adoption of these canonical amendments by a computer vote. The motion was adopted.

The Committee then moved that amendments to Title II, Canons numbers 2, 5, and 6, and Title III, Canons 1 and 2, being inconsistent with current Diocesan be considered as a group. APPENDIX A - BISHOP'S COUNCIL ADDRESS

The Rt. Rev. C. Andrew Doyle

February 11, 2017

John 15

"I am the true vine, and my Father is the vine-grower. He removes every branch in me that bears no fruit.

Every branch that bears fruit he prunes to make it bear more fruit. Abide in me as I abide in you. Just as the branch cannot bear fruit by itself unless it abides in the vine, neither can you unless you abide in me. I am the vine, you are the branches. Those who abide in me and I in them bear much fruit, because apart from me you can do nothing.

'This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. ¹³No one has greater love than this, to lay down one's life for one's friends. You did not choose me but I chose you. And I appointed you to go and bear fruit, fruit that will last..."

The Scripture is clear, there is no avoiding its purpose, nor quibbling about its intent

Fruit is meant by its very nature to multiply

Vines grow

Servants serve

Christians encourage one another with love

Christians are chosen

You are appointed

We are called for just such a time as this

To give away what you have received

And watch it grow

Growth does not come easy

When Abram and Sarai left on their journey from the land of Ur of the Chaldeans and set up altars in the world, there was always with them a tension—a tension between that place from which they had come—the homeland they knew so well—and the place to which God was sending them.

An unknown, yet undiscovered future. This is true for every story, for anyone who follows a God who invites people into a wilderness journey always headed to the promised land.

There are some who, in times past, shrunk from their invitation. Jonah, for instance, but even he went in the end.

Still many more left the comfort of home, boats, jobs and their families. Many followed God, many accepted the mantle of God's mission. While tempted, do not sanitize their journeys. The hardships they faced, their desires to quit, their fears about what lay ahead, their discomfort. They were human, after all. Men and women who lived in the tension between where they have been, the routines of their life, the new routines of life on the road, and the places yet unseen before them—stormy seas, hungry nights, persecution on their heels, shadows at every turn, rocky ground upon which to lay your head. Do not sanitize those stories. They were hard. The yoke of Jesus is light. God is good. Mercy, forgiveness, kindness and grace abound. But the journey with Jesus is neither safe nor easy, nor has it ever been.

For comfort, we have the promise of the Good News of salvation. We also have the promise of belonging to a band of friends with whom to walk—motley family of misfit jack-wagons (as one priest wrote)—all saved by grace and humbly walking with Jesus to find others, others who have heard the promises of culture’s gospel of prosperity, blessings exchanged for faith, and the “work harder gospel” prosperity promised for all, but given to a few. But these others, in their hearts, long to hear the words of the man from Galilee. It’s these others who say to the church what the Greeks said to Philip: “We wish to see Jesus.”

When I graduated from seminary, all I knew was what I saw of priesthood from the outside. But inside, at 28, how hard can this be. I figured play guitar, write a good sermon from time to time, teach a well-planned exciting class from time to time, visit the shut-ins, go to the hospital—that should be about 40 hours a week. Those poor people at Christ Church, Temple, had to put up with me. They did and they helped me, and they taught me.

I was in Bishop Claude Payne’s first graduating class. The church was changing. What one thought was shifting—we had to move from maintenance to mission. We were challenged to reclaim the Great Commission; to have “Big, Holy, Audacious, Goal; to believe in “Miraculous Expectation.” His vision captured many of our imaginations and it captured mine. Culture-war weary vets, we were ready for his vision of a church transformed. A great ocean liner changing its course, which would take miles of journey forward. The mother church, once again, capturing the mission of Jesus. We would not be here today accomplishing what we are if not challenged by a vision for change, if it were not for the intervention of the Holy Spirit in the Diocese of Texas, through the ministry of Bishop Payne. We would not have seen the miracles we have seen.

That work was costly though at the end of his eight years. Many were tired and road weary—set out on a journey. Many were unprepared for the emotional economy of changing a system deeply entrenched. We learned we didn’t only not have the answers to the questions we faced, but there was a set of whole new questions. Parallel development sounded easy until we tried it. When he retired, I was tired.

I say this because I know what it is like to be a leader caught in the shifting sands of change. To feel the tension that is always between the homeland we expect and the unknown, yet undiscovered, future between parishioners’ idea of church and God’s call to mission—between your expectation of this “church” thing and what you actually do on any given day, versus what you hoped to do, versus what the context is and what the bishop expects of you.

Furthermore, the old culture wars within the church, stabilized by unity in mission, are once more stirred up. Once more cultural shifts changing quickly. There is anxiety about the future for everyone. People left behind by economic progress, an ever-growing multi-ethnic society, some fearful of the loss of progress and many others cynical about a hopeful future; the deep divides between political foes; the lack of answers about the future state of our economy, our government and our livelihood regardless of what tribe you hang with. A lot seems at risk in a variety of ways and this has caused additional stress on you as leaders, on our vestries, on our lay leadership, on our lay staff.

What I know is that, as clergy, you are especially caught in the midst of it. As clergy, you are unable to share with others how you honestly feel. As clergy, you are responsible, no time to let down your guard. Pastoring a flock that can't conceive that you aren't all on the same page. Unsure how far you can challenge your flock with the gospel of Jesus Christ and mission in case they might come after you. Clergy are scared about how much they can tell you about the Gospel and looking inward. Their job is not easy. The backlashes swinging from both ends of an ever-widening spectrum often hits you from both sides. On the same sermon and for those of you who have spouses, they too have discovered they can be even more isolated...in maybe even crisis

So, it is...In the midst of the great tension of leaving our past and making our way into God's future, many of you are also navigating cultural land mines without a map. So, I pause here to say, I see you. As your bishop, I see you. I see you my priests and deacons, and spouses. I see the mantle you bear for this gospel and I lift you up in prayer. I am moved by your courage; by your tenacity to stay in the game and not walk away; by your willingness to try your very best; by your sacrifice; by your commitment to bind yourselves to God and Gospel. On behalf of this diocese, on behalf of your churches, on behalf of your bishops I say, "Thank you."

But now as bishop it is my job to talk about that unknown future that God invites us to step into

Charles Ellis concludes his essay on "Winning the Loser's Game" with these words:

"There is a class of diseases which are called iatrogenic meaning they are doctor-caused. The Chinese finger cage and the modern straightjacket most tightly grip the person who struggles to break free." There is something here that strikes me as true regarding our church institution. The irony is that we as an organization are seeking a solution to what ails us, and yet we often we are our own problem. To the extent that this is true, Denial and isolation are our primary symptoms. The organization itself tightens its grip against innovation and entrepreneurs. Our internal doctor tells us that we must hold tight to what we have received. We tell ourselves that those who need us will find us; that if we work harder at our internal ministries we will do better. All our healthy matrix of congregational wellness is oriented around internal best management of ever decreasing resources. And our ministry is focused inward instead of outward...just do a calculation of hours spent, money spent, resources spent in your congregation on things inside the parish...So it is we actually undermine the Gospel message for a world desperate for some good news that we have been given to share. We cannot face or accept that our internal housekeeping is futile in the face of change. But we still tell ourselves to hunker down try harder and hold on tight.

We are doctors practicing without a license. We say yes, we can cure ourselves - Jesus...meanwhile what ails us grows in the shadow. The straightjacket of "how it is supposed to be" is our prescription and our tyranny.

The gospel paradox haunts us, convicts our souls, and we feel shame because we know in our heart of hearts that: In death, there is life, in loss there is gain, in giving we receive, by going and being lost in the world with others in their wilderness we are actually found. We realize that what it is really about is losing the winner's game not the other way around. It's hard to get to resurrection Sunday. As your diocesan bishop, I have hoped to cast a vision that helps us move us into the emerging context of the world around us. That reignites the mission of God in Christ Jesus and creates a social imaginary, a place of safety where creative forces may move and play

Paul writes in 1 Thessalonian's 5: ...Encourage one another and build up each other, as indeed you are doing.

... Be at peace among yourselves. And we urge you, beloved, admonish the idlers, encourage the faint-hearted, help the weak, be patient with all of them. See that none of you repays evil for evil, but always seek to do good to one another and to all. Rejoice always, pray without ceasing, give thanks in all circumstances; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you.

Not a bad description of pastoral ministry...My work as your bishop has been to encourage you it is not enough to say that though... Or to be attentive when I am with you. Instead the whole organization must encourage you. The structures of the diocese must encourage you, challenge you, strengthen you and above all else: YOU must encourage one another. What we know from studies in organizational leadership and have discovered in mission when there are few answers It takes a church willing to walk its talk and meaningful change takes more than words. Often times, it's putting its money where its mouth is. Where its mission is.

Since 2009 we've spent $11.5 million on new churches and second sites. In fact, we'll continue our annual pledge of up to $600,000 in small grants to underwrite future creative ministries on an annual basis. David Fisher and our EFT and Quin folks have done a ton of work to create a new Strategic Mission Grant process reflecting with you about what was working and not working. We are beta testing this spring a new batch of grants. We want to be partners with you in local ministry.

We believe in the church, and that everyone has an opportunity to share in this mission opportunity. The annual $5 million dollars to underwrite our cost of health insurance each year underwrites your parochial ministries and the cost of doing business off the top. As of the end of 2017 this gift will total $15 million. These are real ministry dollars, money we intend to be freed up money that would have been spent on maintenance to do mission, to pour into local community through mission and ministry.

We believe more money must be kept at the local level of mission. We have committed to do the staff restructuring and hiring without changing our assessment formula as bishops have in the past. When we decreased the assessment by 8% so that you could increase dollars locally for mission, we made a commitment. We believe that we are partners in this work and despite the structural challenges you needed to not be sending 18% to the diocese to help with mission instead a 10% or less assessment is your present assessment and will continue to be. We believe that the pressures that all of you face, no matter what church you're in, no matter what size, mission and ministry is costly and we want to continue to be part of alleviating the pressure.

The changes we are making are not just about money. They are deep changes to the internal culture of our organization concerning how we partner with you in mission. We are rejecting a pedagogical model of knowing all the answers in congregational development. To helping you amplify your mission given your context. We are committed to walking with you together as we ask hard questions. You are not alone. We believe our congregational consulting, our funding, our very commitment to churches is linked to our understanding that each Christian community we plant is a central hub for mission. And, is the key to our success as an overall organization.

We believe that this work, over the last 9 years, has contributed to the fact that today we see more congregations growing than in the recent history... that is amazing. There is going to be a tipping point when we see more growing than shrinking. That's the goal. You all doing the work. Last year 56 of our congregations grew over a 5-year period. This year 59 of our congregations grew over a 5-year period. That's you all doing the work.

You all are doing that work by engaging creatively, by imagining what God's doing, by believing that you can start new communities and new churches, by having visions that are crazy and getting out there and undertaking them.

These are the congregations that we most enjoy working with. We roll up our sleeves and we are there for you. We commit to you.

We have a goal of planting 18 new churches. Mission hubs are essential. In a church tempted and often occupied by scarcity. The Episcopal Diocese of Texas will charter a course of abundance, we will step out.

And multiply the number of our communities. God is waiting for us.

But like that old Ginsu knives commercial, there's more. There's more.

We believe God's spirit is moving outside of our buildings and already collecting people into new missional communities. And that this movement invites existing congregations and individuals to share in what God is doing.

So, we've challenged ourselves in the next 3 years to complete 20 new college campus ministries and 50 missional communities. 154 congregations, 9 campus mission, 27 missional communities. Nearing 300 Christian communities changing lives.

As of today: 21 established communities

16 in development

Congregations are sending out members to start additional 21 communities

16 Congregations preparing to send out leaders

The result:

Over 500 new people in Christian community

106 celebrated Christmas together in their missional community

7 people were baptized and 2 people received into the Episcopal church

We believe that we are to live, and move, and act within this new mix of missional expression of Christian community. Trying to engage in holy risk taking. Jesus is going with us and I don't know where we are going we have to learn to practice this and take these steps. Some resist and criticize those doing it. This is to refocus mission, discourages, not encourage ...

That we're no longer hindered by a one church model, but that we are investigating, curious about what God's doing, and trying new things. And that we want to expand, and embrace, and begin to fund creative mission and people and churches with the courage to take a holy risk. We as your diocesan staff want to be seen as helping you building new creative initiatives that are outside the church,

And we're trying to learn these new ways of thinking and ways in which we-- and I think it really comes down to a sense that what we want to do is to move into a work around behaviors, around what it means for every Christian community to be truly missional, to discover what it means to engage, what does it mean to be out there and to know our neighbors?

We think hope and encouragement leads this work. Yes, fear and anxiety continues to hold some of us back, and at times, even myself. Some have also chosen to respond to this grace filled moment of opportunity by resisting the movement, and criticizing the efforts of others Sure we like to call it being "constructive" or "critical analysis" but at the end of the day this negative response is not encouragement but discouragement – and the God of Abraham is always asking us to encourage one another We think hope and encouragement leads this work.

Biblical knowledge is experiential knowledge, The experience of the living God moving in our lives, and reflecting on that experience with others and true learning is always about incorporating new behaviors into our life, ministry, and mission New ideas will not help us with managing the tension between where we are now and where we are going New ideas will not help us with courage, hope, or faith We do not offer a power point presentation to children on bike riding in order that they can understand and clearly articulate the mechanics of how the frame, chain, and spokes all work together. Instead we put them on a bike...yes with a helmet and training wheels...but we put them on a bike and we push them forward

Mission is always going to be less about information about God and more about encountering God, and in the tension that always comes with learning something new the tension of leaving and old land and embarking with God to a new land there is always fear, eagerness, trial and error, training wheels, “holding”, and skinned knees before we get there. But we are there for one another, encouraging.

We have, to this date, planted more Christian churches AND small Christian communities in this diocese Than the last 3 decades. The spirit of mission in this diocese is growing a spirit not experienced here since the 1950s; and I promise it’s a lot better than the 1950s.

Now... I want to review with you some of our 2016 work, and future work, from your diocesan staff’s perspective

We are living into Gods bold vision for us a vision that focuses on the multiplication and growth of Christian communities, and in the past year we have made significant efforts to restructure our staff so that our work is aligned.

In 2016: We finalized and communicated our EDOT staff core values and we clarified metrics on our 13-year target (how many congregations and communities we intend to start by 2030). Significant headway was made with respect to the reorganization of Diocesan staff. Key new hires include a Chief Financial Officer, a Missioner for Missional Communities, a Diocesan Transition Missioner, an Associate Missioner for Congregational Initiatives, and a Human Resources Administrator. In the next month or so, we hope to hire a Canon for Mission Amplification as we are in the final stages of that search process.

A clear funding process for starting new Christian communities through the Great Commission Foundation has been completed.

The executive team is currently working on a model for how we will leverage our current financial resources to start the 18 new congregations by 2030. This is a conversation we expect to develop and come to terms with in 2017. We determined a starting point for currently existing missional communities in the Diocese of Texas and with the help of Jason Evans and The Rev. Beth Magill are on our way to starting new communities. The Iona School for Ministry was successfully transferred under the authority of the Rt. Rev. Dena Harrison. A lay formation track was developed and implemented that will certify lay people to preach and to lead missional communities.

Carol Barnwell and her team made significant headway with respect to our goal of offering all key diocesan communications in Spanish. Several weeks ago, we announced the release of Juntos en Mision: Invitación, Bienvenida y Conexión, a digital training series for Spanish-speaking congregations. Juntos en Mision was developed with the help of clergy and parishioners to help laity learn to invite, welcome and connect visitors and new members as well as strengthen their existing ministries.

Now, I will say that we have some pretty lofty 13-year goals, we will have 275 Christian communities in the diocese. By the year 2030, we want to move from 56 to 106+ of our congregations growing. We want to increase weekly attendance, not just Sunday. We want to measure how many visitors. And we believe it has to be on a multi-year average and not just on a single year. We believe that growth is an ebb and flow. That if you grow, you're going to shrink back a little bit before you take the next step. We are taking into account growth AND attrition. Not everything's going to work. But if you do the numbers, we hope in 13 years to have 275 total Christian communities/congregations in the Diocese of Texas.

This total of 275 includes our current congregations, 18 new church plants, and new missional communities that prove to be sustainable over time.

We want to increase weekly worship attendance, and we haven't figured out how to measure that. But we will ... just add it to the list of things that we as a diocesan staff intend to learn. We intend to measure the number of visitors that you have every week as a way of throwing a light on the work of evangelism and bringing people into the church. And so, what we would like to see is 620 visitors each week in 13 years. We have no idea whether that's high or low, or insane or whatever. So, we think that number is probably going to adjust as we get some sense about the actual number today.

And, in 2017 we as your diocesan staff want to have accomplished the following:

1. Complete Finance Department re-organization
2. Implement holistic case management system for congregations and communities
 - a. Articulate and implement Congregational engagement strategy
 - b. Get a CRM software (stands for customer relationship management) for tracking work of staff with congregations
 - c. Develop the logic model to help staff and foundations measure outcomes of strategies and actions with congregations
3. Initiate and implement communications plan or strategy
4. Establish clear planting strategy and call three new planters.
5. Establish missional communities' strategy and initiate the remaining 5-year goal of 29 new communities.
6. Traction model implemented down through directors' level and teams as an internal organizational strategy

Your bishops and executive staff have been reflecting on the nature of our episcopal visits. We are so grateful for your patience in allowing us to come in the evenings. You know each bishop travels between 25 and 40+ thousand miles a year. Live in their car one month of their lives each year. Live another month of their life away from their family on visitations; and still another 1/2 month working for the broader church not to mention the weeks of regularly clocking over 65 hours a week. Your patience regarding calendar and scheduling has been gracious to say the least.

I have to make it to all the congregations, And, oversee the southern region. Meanwhile the other bishops join me in attempting 49+ visits a year in 39 weeks. We are all, you the congregations included, doing summersaults around visitations and coverage of our congregations and still this means most of you a visit every 3 years from a bishop; and see me every 5 years.

Therefore, your bishops, staff, Executive Board, and Standing Committee are proposing a 4th bishop. We are calling for the passing of a resolution empowering me to appoint an assistant bishop. The budget you passed yesterday has the finances sorted out. I will have to get permission from the House of Bishops to make the call. That being said, this person would join the office in Houston, have oversight of the southern region to assist in visitations, meaning every congregation would have a Sunday morning visit from a bishop at least every two years, sometimes more. And, you would see me at a maximum of every 4 years but they would all be Sunday morning visits. This would free up more time to be in congregations for celebrations, teachings, and pastoral relationships and support.

This bishop will come to us with 13+ years of diocesan bishop experience; will be a native Spanish speaker; has experience raising up Spanish speaking lay and clergy to plant new churches. With a history of resource development, this person would come to us in June/July. We would commit to 5 years (that is the term of a visa) – hoping that if it goes well we can keep them longer. We would evaluate the work on a go forward basis. We believe that this is a unique opportunity for us to not only make visitations and life easier regarding confirmations and receptions, but we believe that this will actually increase our ability to pastor as bishops, provide ease in the system overall, a better pastoral presence in the southern part of the diocese, help us reach our goals around growth, and add diversity to the episcopate in the Diocese of Texas and wider Episcopal Church.

Let me end with a story. In the 1936 Olympics Adolf Hitler's Games the Germans had won gold in rowing for the single sculls, the pairs without a coxswain, and with, the four with a coxswain and the four without, They won everything except for the double sculls, won by the Brits, The Germans had swept the Olympic games in rowing until the final race On a chilly morning in 1936 eight American boys rowed the race of their lives They won the gold in the eight The high point of the rowing competition Eight triumphed, no dominated, over every other boat in the river It was a victory for the world, a victory for America, A victory for those young men It was a victory of the heart they were the fastest beating the field of competitors Exploding forward Coming from behind The crowd so loud they could not hear the coxswain ½ a boat ahead of their rivals

On that day eight young men from the pacific northwest Huskies from the University of Washington not known for their rowing prowess beat every American before going to Germany, and then triumphed in the Olympic Games. I will tell you they did not win by being the fastest – though they were indeed the fastest. They had found ...discovered...you see something else. Eight boys – in the midst of the great depression, some left by their families to fend for themselves.

Many of them starving literally working other jobs to survive. Chopping lumber, working as janitors, in pulp mills.

Each picked up and put on the team, chosen they were. They got over their own competition with one another. They got over their resentment for their teammates. Their bruised egos and wounded feelings. They got over their poverty and their hunger. They pulled and clawed themselves into a team. They became a team. They became a community of one. They encouraged one another. They listened and were encouraged by their coach and their coxswain and the boat builder himself. They applied what they had experienced and what they learned and became a team, a family, a cohort committed to one another. I really believe the most important lesson they learned was from George Yoeman Pocock, the shell builder, the boat craftsman. He was more than a Boatwright. He was a sage. He said that he approached his craft by trying to leave a little bit of his heart in each boat, each shell, he carved. He said that when you walk away from a race you want to leave a little of your heart behind, for when you do this, when you leave a little heart behind, you will know that you will have done your best, and you will have given your all, you will have rowed well enough. And, when you will have rowed well enough, you will have approached the divine. You see the eight young men did not win because they were the fastest. They won because their "eight hearts beat as one." They won because when you watched them they were a "symphony of blades," slicing through the water. their unity was a "poem in motion." They won because they lost themselves in the lives of their teammates and to their mission. This was more than a race; it was a mission they committed their hearts to.

The author of Hebrews writes the following: Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight and the sin that clings so closely, and let us run with perseverance the race that is set before us, looking to Jesus the pioneer and perfecter of our faith...The race that is before us requires us to get over ourselves, our competitive hearts, our jealous souls, and our fears and anxieties about this and that to shake loose the clinging nature of what once was and what may be to be and to see around us a great cloud of witnesses of which God in Christ Jesus is one, to look to Jesus, to see Jesus clearly.
Who did not hold onto equality with God But bridged the gulf between heaven and earth to be with us
To fulfill his promise to be with us even to the end of the ages and, reclaiming the great mission vision
That has captured the hearts of apostles before us, and become the mission diocese we are made to be

Not to be the greatest or arrive at the finish line first, but that our hearts might beat as one; that our work of evangelism and service might sound out a symphony of praise to God; that in the years to come they will look back on this time - Our time - Our leg of the great race- and see a poem of motion, that our hearts beat as one. In that moment, we will know we took advantage of our time, this time, that we left a little bit of heart on the part of the promise, and we will know that EDOT was dared to risk everything for Jesus. That we were+ written by God. We were a poem in motion. That my friends will be a good day.

APPENDIX B – CMTE. ON MISSIONS AND PARISHES - MARY M. MACGREGOR,
Canon for Congregational Vitality and Director of Mission Amplification
Saturday Morning, February 11, 2017

Right Reverend Sir, Clergy and Delegates, I would like to make the following report on behalf of the Committee on Missions and Parishes.

The vision of the Diocese of Texas, as articulated in 2014 and updated in the past year, calls for the growth and multiplication of Christian communities. Our staff, foundations, commissions and bishops work to support and advance this growth and multiplication, as we work with you, the clergy and lay people of the diocese to advance God's mission for us. We stop here at Council each year to share with you what we are seeing as we look at information from our congregations, what we are supporting through the efforts of the staff of the Diocese, and where we are going as we seek to advance this holy work.

What are we seeing?

In short, we are observing growth, whether you measure quantitatively or qualitatively. Our numbers and stories are full of hope.

In late 2015, little St. Philip's in Hearne was in need of support. St. Andrew's, Bryan sought to partner with the diocese to encourage a new beginning for this struggling congregation. We were very pleased to work together with this missional initiative.

With the assignment of an Iona student, now priest, The Rev. Nandra Perry, and the ongoing commitment by members of St. Andrew's, the mission of the Episcopal Church is once again alive with hope in Hearne.

Another exciting advancement is occurring in Spring. The Diocese originally set a goal to plant a congregation near the new Exxon Mobil campus. However, Holy Comforter, Spring sat within two miles of that location sparking the potential to rethink the plan. Holy Comforter and her rector, the Rev. Jimmy Abbott, accepted the diocesan challenge to engage its new neighbors and explore the possibilities.

With a demonstrated ability to connect to those outside their congregation, Holy Comforter was poised to partner with the Diocese to undertake a significant capital project and expand its reach even further into the community.

This effort is underway and a vision for a much-enlarged facility to accommodate its current and future growth has been created. In several areas and congregations of the Diocese, increasing diversity has brought with it periods of discomfort and challenge. Efforts by our Intercultural Missioner and the Commission on Black Ministry, as well as the Congregational Engagement team of the Episcopal Health Foundation and the Communications team, have provided timely assistance in deepening understanding, developing bridge-building and relational skills, and helping Episcopalians and our neighbors form bonds for common work.

In the Spring Branch area of west Houston, St. Christopher's opened office and meeting space to our newest church planting effort, welcoming what has become San Romero Episcopal Fellowship. The leadership of St. Christopher's and San Romero has been working with our Intercultural Missioner to deepen their cultural competency to ensure that the relationship for both congregations will be life-giving well into the future.

Since 2010 the Diocese of Texas has encouraged, trained and financially supported many of our English-speaking churches to utilize the Invite, Welcome, Connect resources. These excellent materials have assisted congregations in their efforts of evangelism, hospitality and incorporation of new persons into their congregations. In 2016, a generous grant from the Ethel Ogden Fund, which is overseen by the Church Corporation, provided for the production of videos and resources of a culturally sensitive Spanish language version of Invite, Welcome, Connect.

The Commission on Hispanic Ministries and members of our Spanish-speaking congregations partnered with the Communications Team to create these extraordinary materials which will be launched in the next few weeks, with significant training for using them at the Hispanic Leadership Conference in June. These materials will fill a need in our current and new Spanish-speaking congregations and will also be available to congregations beyond the borders of our Diocese. These few stories are just a sampling of the mission and ministry being done. We know there are so many more to tell. Please take a few moments while we are here in Galveston to share your congregational stories with each other as we partner with God in mission in 2017.

In addition to our stories it is important to observe the quantitative impact of our collective work. Bishop Doyle has directed the staff to clarify what we should measure to assess growth within our congregations. We continue to work on these new metrics. We believe that church attendance patterns have been changing, and that our current metrics, those required by the parochial report, do not always reveal accurately the strengthening and weakening of our congregations.

We know that in any given year a congregation may face extraordinary circumstances that push attendance up or down on Sundays. As a result of this reality, the Mission Amplification team and the Bishops are looking at 5 year trends. In other words, how does average Sunday attendance in 2016 compare to the attendance in 2011? When we examined the five-year trend from 2010 to 2015, 56 of our congregations, or 47%, had grown in ASA. The same comparison from 2011 to 2016 showed 59 of our congregations had grown in ASA. Our hope, as a diocese, is to invest in efforts to help more congregations join this group. Our Mission Amplification, Communications, Wellness and Care team, Transitions, and Finance Department all teach, partner and coach lay and ordained congregational leaders to effectively support the health and development of our existing congregations.

Our common vision for the future of the Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Texas acknowledges that faithful response to God's mission involves what we are doing outside our current congregations, as much as what we are doing inside. Our strategy for multiplying the impact of the Diocese on our 57 counties includes the launching of missional communities. This work took significant steps forward this year, due to the courage, cooperation, and engagement of congregations, clergy, and lay people across the Diocese. A baseline survey conducted in early 2016 and enhanced by individual conversations through the summer, led us to conclude that by midyear, 14 missional communities had been established. Efforts to spread the vision and deepen the diocese's understanding of missional work and missional communities included much field work by missionaries, a dedicated edition of the Dialog magazine, and creative experiments and conversations in networks across the state. By the end of 2016, the Mission Amplification team counted 22 established missional communities from work in 12 congregations. Today, the count is 27 missional communities. 21 additional congregations are actively sending out clergy and laity to build relationships and partnerships foundational to future missional communities and ministry. 16 other congregations have indicated that they are considering development of missional strategies. And across the diocese there are 532 people participating in these communities. With the support and coaching of the Mission Amplification team and financial support from our foundations in the form of Strategic Mission Grants, we are excited to anticipate the launch of an additional 25 communities in 2017. Together, we are moving toward fulfillment of the vision of 150 small batch Christian communities over the next 14 years.

There are many particular efforts to celebrate arising from this missional community work. I would like to note a few that have caught our imagination about what is possible when we reimagine and broaden our vision of Church. SoCo, or south Congress Episcopal Community, is a parochial mission of St. David's, Austin. A few years ago, Paul Skeith, a lay leader, had a vision to form this community. Persons first gathered in his home, then later at a restaurant and a bar-before beginning worship in an elementary school.

Paul was ordained priest last Friday night in that school's gymnasium. He envisions planting additional communities in the same area of Austin. These communities will be linked, each reaching neighbors who have little exposure to Christian community.

Closer to Houston, St. Isidore's is a parish mission of Trinity, the Woodlands and under the creative leadership of the Rev. Sean Steele. It continues to grow as a cluster of missional communities with no single building. Two new communities are planned for 2017 to bring the total for St. Isidore's to 7. These communities gather together as one for Laundry Love, a meal and Eucharist on a monthly basis.

The most recent and iconic addition to St. Isidore is the Abundant Harvest Food Truck. Like many of the other efforts, whether small or large, St. Isidore's resulted from a collaborative group made up of Trinity, the Diocesan staff, a clergy coach from another congregation, the diocesan Foundations, and curious neighbors and contributors from far afield.

I would also like to highlight some other missional community efforts well underway across the diocese:

- Deacon Bob Lowry, Holy Comforter, Spring, has started missional communities in retirement communities and nursing homes
- The Rev. Brin Bon of St. Michael's Austin, has started "farm church," a community meeting around faith and food.
- The Rev. Canon Simone Bautista at Christ Church Cathedral has started two Spanish-speaking missional communities.
- The Rev. David Peters at St. Mark's Austin has started 4 communities through the Episcopal Veterans Fellowship.
- Mosaic, the second site of St. Andrew's Pearland, has started a missional community among the developmentally disabled under Debbie Allensworth's leadership.
- Jim Harrington has led the re-organization of St. James' Spanish-speaking congregation into Proyecto Santiago, a missional community engaging their Austin neighborhood.

These communities have extended the relational reach of the Episcopal Church into completely new territory and have provided multiple ways in which the diocese and its congregations can work together.

Another piece of our vision is the expansion of Episcopal ministries on college campuses and amongst college communities. In 2016, we invested fully in the Diocese's mission to the University of Houston. It has become a hub of Canterbury in the Community, ministries touching community college students across the greater Houston area.

And a new level of collaboration has been struck by the 3 Episcopal churches in Waco to deepen our work at Baylor. These congregations in partnership with the diocese will for the first time call for a full-time Campus Missioner. This step is only possible because of the faith and generosity of the three congregations which have pledged to assist with the cost of this expansion.

A few other initiatives include St. Stephen's and St. Mark's Beaumont working together to serve Lamar University; A lay lead team from St. Stephen's Huntsville working at Sam Houston University, and a regenerated ministry with Stephen F. Austin University in Nacogdoches. We are attempting to imagine how the Episcopal Church can be present on non-traditional campuses.

So, this brings the diocesan total to 9 college ministries with full or part time staff, 3 starting up in 2017 and another 11 congregations beginning conversations for potential college ministries in 2017. We have a three-year goal to establish 20 new college communities on new and current campuses in the diocese. This will take team work between the diocese and our congregations. Might God be calling your church to establish a ministry to a nearby college?

My friends in Christ, the harvest is plentiful. How will you participate?

I would like to close by reminding you of a few opportunities for training and inspiration. The upcoming 3 regional vestry/warden's conferences, titled a Fresh Look at Vestry Ministry, will be in the Houston Area at Holy Cross, Sugarland, on Feb. 25, St. Richard's, Round Rock in the Austin area on March 4, and at St. Cyprians, Lufkin, for the east Texas region on March 11. And for those of you who are eager to know what it takes to launch new communities of faith, plan to attend Cultivate: Recruiting and Equipping Missional Leaders at Camp Allen, May 5-7. The Hispanic Lay Ministry Conference, which has grown exponentially in attendance, will be June 16-17 at Camp Allen.

Keep up with the numerous opportunities listed on the calendar on our diocesan website, www.epicenter.org to gather, learn and be deployed in mission. For together, we can do more than we can hope or imagine to support the building of God's Kingdom here in our corner of Texas.

APPENDIX C – 2016 FINANCIAL STMT. RESULTS – LINDA RILEY MITCHELL

Good afternoon, Right Reverend Bishop Sir, Members of Council, EDOT staff, and visitors. I must begin by thanking y'all for the warm welcome I have received today-- and over the last several months. It is great to be in the Episcopal Diocese of Texas at the one hundred, sixty-eighth council meeting. I may come to you having lived in the Midwest, but both my parents were born in that foreign land you sometimes speak of to the north—Oklahoma. They were from Muskogee and little Wright City, Oklahoma. I have been asked to serve as your CFO after having been a CFO in media, government, and hospitality. Now I am proud to be CFO in the promised land – TEXAS. The Diocese impacts the lives of so many people through all of you and your service to the Lord. I'll begin with the Balance Sheet.

Balance Sheet

There is a preliminary year to date November, 2016 financial statement in the Journal beginning on page 49. We have now completed the December, 2016 unaudited financials and have posted them on the EDOT website. I am pleased to report that the Diocese is in great financial condition. Comparing 2016 to 2015, our cash and marketable security balances have down. Going back to the year before back in 2015, our balances were down to just $60,629. Now, as of the end of 2016, cash and marketable securities are up to $205,323. Compared to the 2015 amount $60,629 that is more than three times as much. While many folks were celebrating New Year's Eve, accounting nerds were counting to establish the amount of the December 31 balances. Looking at the liabilities, we have no debt. The year before we had $350,000 outstanding on our line of credit. Now that has been paid off and I am happy to report that we are debt free! We are under budget for expenses and our net assets balance has increased by $374,157 to $884,514. Great news. How did it happen?

Revenues

Let's look at the income statement. Total revenues for 2016 came in at budgeted levels--within just one tenth of one percent at $10,240,59. Revenues from assessments were at budgeted levels. Program revenues were over budget by $45,521 due to a favorable variance in the recovery ministries from a grant received for a website development project. Other income was under budget by $38,722 with lower than expected bequest, donations, and Texas Episcopalian contributions.

Expenses

As for expenditures, total expenses were $363,568 less than had been budgeted. Lower than anticipated Administrative and Canonical expenses were offset by higher costs in Mission Amplification and in the Office of the Bishop.

Administrative expenses were $486,000 lower than had been budgeted. Administrative compensation was under budget by $413,000. Personnel additions that were budgeted for the Finance staff for a full year in 2016 were filled later in the year than expected. For example, I did not join you until August. Certain other Finance positions remain unfilled. Positions that were filled were brought in at salaries that were under the amount that had been budgeted.

Group health insurance costs within Administrative expense were $299,226 lower than budget—only about half of the $604,000 amount budgeted. Insurance costs and coverage are reviewed by a subcommittee of the Finance committee, the Insurance Task force, which is led by Dr. John Hancock. Although premiums have increased slightly, insurance costs have declined. There were fewer clergy in the insurance pool and fewer positions on the Diocesan staff than budgeted.

Certain costs were over budget in Administration, reducing the effect of the savings in compensation and health insurance. Vacancies in staffing caused the Diocese to seek consulting support. HR and finance consulting costs were $67,899 over budget. This was largely due to the Finance Committee determination, with the Executive Board and Bishop, that the retired CFO continue past retirement during the transition and consult for the Diocese. This was not in the original budget and was extended during the search for CFO. An HR consultant was also used. General office expenses were $85,754 over budget. Information technology costs exceeded the budget by $58,601. More tech support was required to update technology and to install desktops when new staff was hired.

Expenses were $115,669 over budget in Mission Amplification. Congregational vitality was over budget by $86,340. Costs were higher than anticipated for, conferences, and clergy gatherings. In the midst of the transition, costs for clergy conferences such as the Retired Clergy Retreat, the Clergy Spouse Retreat, and the Little Church retreat exceeded budgeted levels. Youth ministry exceeded budget by $50,395. These higher costs were somewhat offset by lower than anticipated costs for the Ilona school and Christian Formation.

Expenses were $75,822 over budget in the Office of the Bishop. Adjustments to clergy salaries were made as a result of a comprehensive study of compensation commissioned by a subcommittee of the Executive Board, the Sub-Committee on Executive Remuneration. A copy of the Sub-Committee report is on page 139 of the Journal. The Sub-committee engaged the services of a global consulting firm, Mercer, that has done similar projects for Church Pension group and for other Dioceses. In 2016, salaries for five leadership positions were adjusted for a total of $96,000 to reflect prevailing market rates. Benefits and taxes related to these salary changes also increased costs. These increases were offset by decreases in lay staff, housing allowances, and business and travel costs for a net increase of $75,822 in this department.

Other departments were at or under budget. Service and Outreach was at budgeted levels. This includes $961,313 for Support of the Episcopal Church and $300,000 for Support of the Anglican Community. Canonical expenses were under budget because costs were $44,092 lower than expected for the Diocesan Council meeting in the Woodlands. Ministry expenses were $25,455 under budget because the A & M college ministry position at College Station was vacant for six months.

In summary, as Sinatra would have said, "it was a very good year." No, I'm not going to sing, "My kinda town Chicago."

Total expenditures were less than budgeted levels. So, net assets grew by $374,159 for the year ended December 31, 2016. Because we have accumulated additional net assets through lower expenditures in 2016, we are planning to spend down some of the accumulated total net assets of $884,514, nearly $900,000 in 2017. The $884,514 total net assets is shown on the December 31, 2016 balance sheet. The $374,159 portion of that $884,000 amount that was accumulated in 2016 primarily represents timing differences in making the staff additions. The net assets balance will be reduced to help fund the 2017 budget and fill positions that were vacant in 2016.

Looking ahead, the 2016 audit will begin on February 27. The external auditors, Blazek and Vetterling, will begin to issue reports to the Audit Committee on EDOT and the Foundations in May.

That concludes my report, Right Reverend Sir.

APPENDIX D – FINANCE CMTE. STMT. -- JOHN HANCOCK

Episcopal Diocese of Texas CFO Search Committee.

Thank you, Right Reverend, Sir. I would like to begin by providing you with a report on the activities of the CFO Search Committee.

After Bob Biehl, our former CFO and Treasurer, announced his retirement, a seven-person Search Committee was formed, led by Sam Dodson. I was one of the Committee members. More than 500 resumes were reviewed working with two search firms. The search firms performed an initial screen, then certain members of the committee met with 15 of the candidates. We narrowed the field down to six semi-finalists who were interviewed by the full committee. Three final candidates were then referred to Bishop Doyle. Ms. Mitchell was the unanimous first choice of the Committee members.

Bishop Doyle extended an offer to Ms. Mitchell, then the CFO of the Chicago Housing Authority, and she started in August.

Ms. Mitchell has a combination of private sector and public sector experiences. She's a CPA and a cum laude graduate of Marquette University. While CFO of the $10 billion Illinois State Board of Education, she completed the Harvard University Kennedy School of Government Executive Leadership Program for Educators.

2015 Audit

Next, I would like to provide you with an update on the 2015 audit. The audited financial statements of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas for the year ended December 31, 2015 are shown in the Journal beginning on page 156. The 2015 audited financial statements of the foundations are on pages 55 through 131 of the Journal. I am happy to report that all the constituent organizations of the Diocese received clean audit opinions from our external auditors, the Certified Public Accounting firm of Blazek and Vetterling.

The audit of the 2016 financials will begin in a few weeks.

2017 Budget

Now for the 2017 Budget. The budget is shown on page 145 of the Journal. The Executive Board has approved the 2017 Diocesan Budget of $10,705,000 dollars and recommends that it be approved by Council.

Budget Overview

The 2017 budget is an increase of $475,000 dollars from the $10,230,000-dollar budget last year, in 2016. Even with this increase, the 2017 budget still remains lower than it was back in 2013. In 2013, actual expenditures were $13 THIRTEEN million, $348 thousand dollars. Again, expenditures are to be $10 million in 2017.

Budgeted Revenues

Diocesan assessment revenues will increase from $7,230,590 dollars up to $7,454,875 dollars due to growth in parish revenues. There have been no changes in assessment rates. Net assessment revenues are actually forecast to decline because of an $79,403 addition to the allowance for uncollectible accounts that is planned for next year. This is due to uncertainty over the impact of changing economic conditions on Texas.

The insurance assessment is budgeted to decrease by $212,825 in 2017. Insurance reflects the benefit of a $5 million-dollar annual contribution from the Episcopal Health Foundation which reduces the amount paid by everyone. In 2017, there will be $240,706 of additional Support from the Foundations in the form of overhead allocations and Reorganization grants that will be used for changes in Diocesan operations to enhance leadership and ministry support.

Remuneration Committee

Looking at expenditures, the 2017 budget includes a 2 percent cost of living adjustment for most Diocesan employees. The Executive Board created a subcommittee to perform a review of executive leadership compensation for five positions in 2016. A copy of the report from the Sub-Committee on Executive Remuneration is included in the Journal on page 139. The salary survey analysis was conducted by Mercer, an independent consulting firm that has performed similar surveys for Church Pension Group and other dioceses. The 2017 Budget reflects the adjustments made to increase the salary and benefits for the Bishops and Canons based upon that analysis. The budget also includes a new Assistant Bishop for the southern region. With these changes and the new bishop, there was a $254,420 increase in clergy compensation in the Office of the Bishop.

In total, budgeted expenditures for the Diocese increased $475,000. Besides the Office of the Bishop, costs will rise in departments such as Mission Amplification which is up $109,155. This will be the first full year for those staff who joined the Diocese during 2016.

Also in 2017, the Support for the Episcopal Church increases by $260,136 as we move to get closer to the 15 percent of revenue goal we have set for 2018, the year when we will host the General Convention. We are at 13.5 percent in 2017.

These increases in costs are partially offset by decreases in Administrative expenses. Administrative expenses are declining $423,729 due to decreases in group health insurance, HR and finance consulting, and compensation. Health insurance declined despite an increase in rates due to declines in the number of clergy and lay participants. HR and finance consulting was higher in 2016 than it will be in 2017 as consultants were used in the search for the CFO and to provide services while the position was vacant. These human resources and financial consulting expenditures will drop $155,000 and not continue at that same level in 2017.

In the 2017 budget, total expenditures will exceed total revenues by $390,000. We have seen cash reserves grow in 2016 and are utilizing some of the accumulated net asset balance. Because our expenses last year were lower than budget, there were substantial increases in net assets. As Linda indicated, the Diocese will utilize this increase in asset balances to help fund 2017 expenditures. Cash reserves have grown and we are using some of the accumulated net asset balance on the 2016 balance sheet of $884,514 to fund the work of 2017.

We have had a workshop and offered a web review of the budget. The budget comes before you with the approval of both the Finance Committee and Executive Board. Therefore,

Right Reverend Sir, of behalf of the Executive Board and the Finance Committee, I move approval of the 2017 budget.

21)	IT costs are over budget for the year due to the addition of one extra day of support a week provided by Covenant Technologies due to the growing Diocesan staff.
22)	Property and Casualty premiums are higher and the addition of the Tyler office has increased premium expense.
23)	Diocesan Insurance costs are lower than anticipated due to vacant positions on the Diocesan staff and in parish clergy positions.
24)	The Diocese has experienced several instances wherein clergy have not had sufficient resources for health emergencies. Also, clergy evaluations have been more numerous.

S - Special accounts consist of programs that are outside of the normal Diocesan budgeting process due to their unknown nature. They consist of expenses related to disaster relief efforts, specifically in Houston and Deweyville for the recent floods. Also recorded as an expense in 2016 is the release of prior year's temporarily restricted contribution for Bastrop; $17,000 was recognized as revenue in 2015.

	YTD Actual	Annual Budget	Variance
Explanatory Notes

- 1) Two sabbatical grants were received from the Bishop Quin Foundation and used in 2016.
- 2) This grant was to help the Diocese with the expenses for hosting the 2018 General Convention in Austin.
It was approved in 2015 after the budget was approved. The revenues were included in 2015 by the auditors.
- 3) Transition costs are billed as incurred and include the first half of the year's compensation for the former CFO and his consulting for the remainder of the year. In addition, the human resources consultant was not budgeted for in 2016.
- 4) The Recovery Ministry was granted $50,000 during 2016 for the "Shoemaker Community website development and enhancement" project, thus revenue and related expenses are higher than originally budgeted.
- 5) Revenues and expenses from the Austin site have been below expectations in spite of grant writing activity.
- 6) Spiritual Formation/FIND is moving towards self-sufficiency beginning this year, thus no revenue or expense were budgeted for that program.
- 7) The IWC Conference was not as well attended as we had hoped and consequently revenues were below budget.
- 8) The Personnel Committee of the Executive Board, after an extensive independent executive compensation study, adjusted the Executive team salaries in accordance with prevailing market rates. The Mercer consulting firm has performed similar studies for Church Pension Group. This adjustment is part of a multi-year strategic compensation plan.
- 9) There were some changes in the housing allowance made after the budget was finalized.
- 10) Budgeted staff positions (new and retirement replacements) were vacant during the year.
- 11) Travel expenses for Deacon's service which were not budgeted for in 2016.
- 12) Clergy Conference had fewer expenses and attendees in 2016.
- 13) Diocesan Council expenses were less than anticipated.
- 14) College Missioner position at A & M was vacant between 1-1-16 and 7-1-16.
- 15) Although grant funds were received in 2016 to cover this project, delays in production will mean that the remaining expenses will be incurred in 2017.
- 16) Support for Congregations is over budget for the year due primarily due to payroll and payroll tax assistance provided to San Pablo, Houston.
- 17) Calling & Moving will exceed budget due to the cost of several moves exceeding expectation.
- 18) Business and Travel for the Congregational Vitality department was not budgeted for in the midst of the transition and reorganization of Diocesan departments.
- 19) Certain clergy conferences were not budgeted for in the midst of the transition and reorganization of Diocesan departments, such as the Retired Clergy Retreat, the Clergy Spouse Retreat and the Little Church Club.
- 20) Diocesan staff meetings exceeded budget this year due to the staff reorganization and engagement efforts.
